FARMERS' INSTITUTE WORKERS.

Summary of Discussions at Last Week's South Bend Meeting.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 13 .- The fourth annual conference of farmers' institute officers and workers was held at Purdue University Oct. 9 and 10 according to previous announcement. Eighty-two counties were represented, each by the county chairman or his deputy. A large number of institute speakers were also in attendance. The ag- Three Big Oil Wells Are Brought In on gregate number present was about two hundred.

At the opening session Mr. Alexander Johnson, of Fort Wayne, Mr. Cal Husselman, of Auburn, and Mr. H. F. McMahan, of Fairfield, showed, respectively, the relations of the agricultural press, agricultural organizations and agricultural education to the farmers' institute work and pointed out how the institutes might be helpful to these several agencies for the promotion of agri-

At the second session, which was especially for county institute chairmen, the details of arranging for and conducting a successful farmers' institute and reporting the same were clearly brought out in a number of brief talks by institute chair-

At the third session Professor Coulter pointed out how the farmers' institute can nterest the school children in agriculture. President Stone discussed "What the Agricultural College can do for Farmers' Sons and Daughters" and Miss Laura G. Day of Kansas, read a paper emphasizing the importance of training in domestic science as a part of a college education for women. The fourth session was devoted to suggestions for enlarging and improving the inthoroughly discussed.

Those in attendance evinced much interest in the question of agricultural education as a means of agricultural progress and prosperity. At no previous conference of institute workers has there been so general and so clear a recognition of the importance of agricultural education in promoting the advancement of agriculture, The view seemed to be general that this intermediate grades and high school and confetti. With the exception of Miss Day, of Kansas, the speakers before the conference were wholly from points in Indiana. Most of them were county chairmen and practically all everyday farmers. The clearness, conciseness and directness of their discussions showed plainly that our best farmers are not only thinking and reading men, but that they are also rapidly acquiring the power of forcible and pleasing expression of their views in public.

PAT CROWE'S SURRENDER

Winchester; Mrs. Jannette Hill Knox, TERMS ON WHICH THE ALLEGED Wahpeton, N. D.; Mrs. A. W. Lamport, KIDNAPER WILL YIELD.

> Says He Is Not Afraid of a Fair Trial, but Wants the Rewards Withdrawn -Has Been with the Boers.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 13.-Chief of Police John J. Donahue to-day received a letter which he will surrender. The letter came | taels. in care of an Omaha newspaper, in which it is published, and covers fifteen closely written pages of manuscript. The postmark is not legible, but the letter was mailed at 8 o'clock in the morning and reached German-American Oil Company's second this city at 8 in the evening of the same day, indicating that it had not traveled a long distance. In the letter Crowe agrees to give himself up at once and stand trial for the kidnaping of Eddie Cudahy, provided he is not locked up until a jury shall adjudge him guilty. He says he is unable to furnish bond in excess of $500 and de> mands that ball be fixed in that sum. Chief Donahue when asked his opinion of the genuineness of the letter expressed himself as quite satisfied that it came from Crowe. Donahue has known Crowe for several years, is acquainted with his manner, handwriting and style of speech. The chief also received a letter from Crowe's uncle at Manchester, Ia., submitting similar terms for Crowe's surrender, which leads the police to believe that they are dealing with the right man. Crowe's letter to Chief Donahue begins:

"J. J. Donahue, Chief of Police, Omaha, Neb.: Dear Sir-Nearly a year has passed by since I was accused of the Cudahy kidnaping. A large reward was offered and plenty of time has been given for the police and detectives to have made me a prisoner. wish to make a short statement to you and Crowe then takes the detective agencies to task, defying them to attempt his arrest, and continues: 'Now Mr. Donahue, let me tell you all I want is justice, a fair trial by twelve men, citizens of Douglas county, Nebraska. Not by Herod or any all I ask is a square deal. Grant my request and I will give myself up. Mr. Cudahy has known me for thirteen years. He in a typhoon. now believes me guilty; nevertheless, I think he will give me a fair trial, as all he wants is the public to know the truth." He then expresses confidence that the county attorney and sheriff will give him a fair trial, and says he has known Governor Savage ever since he was a barefooted boy on a farm in lowa, and says the Governor has identified him at the banks in South Omaha when Crowe was in | Gren. business there. The letter expresses regret that he has fallen into ill-repute, and then lays down the conditions of his surrender as follows:

"Now, Mr. Donahue, I will give myself up to you, if you will promise me upon your word of honor that I will not be locked up until the jury says guilty. And if the jury says that I would take my punishment like a man, without a murmur. I can give a bond of $500 and that is all. If the court will not accept that I am a fugitive from injustice.

"Your answer to this must bear the signatures of Edward Cudahy, Governor Savage, Sheriff John Power, Attorney Shields Chief J. J. Donahue and the judge that "Mr. Donahue, I want you to understand that I am not afraid of the combined wealth of all the Cudahys on the earth and the united efforts of all the scrub detecthat tries to pinch me will bite the dust, for I am ready to die in the mix. I will not be kangarooed. "You say it is your business to deal out justice. I will take you at your word. Give me a square deal. Leave it to a jury of twelve citizens. Chief, I ask, but I do not expect to get, justice.' The letter then states that the chief would not know him; that he weighs two hundred pounds, and is looking fine. He says he has been in South Africa fighting with the Boers. He closes the main part of his letter by saying he regrets that Mr. Cudahy should suspect him of kidnaping the boy, and hoping soon to receive a reply from the chief, which he directs should oc made through a local paper. This part is signed "Pat Crowe," but the signature is partly erased and four pages of postscript added, in which Crowe says chester, Ia. The letter offers terms for United States. Crowe's surrender, and is as follows: "As there is a reward of $50,000 hanging over the head of Pat Crowe, he wishes to state to you and the police of Omaha that if the reward is withdrawn he will surrender himself and stand a fair trial in the courts of Omaha, State of Nebraska. Reward to be withdrawn on or before Nov. 1." This letter was written on the letter head of an Iowa railroad and signed by Crowe's

Chief Donahue said to-night that would request the city and Mr. Cudahy to withdraw the rewards which have been offered for Crowe's arrest and conviction, with the provision that Crowe surrender himself. He said that if Crowe gave himself up he would be given all the advantage he law provided and would be afforded time and every facility for securing such witnesses as his attorneys deemed necestiations for the return of Crowe. It is only a matter of time when he will be apprehended. However, I will withdraw the reward offered for his arrest and conviction.

MARK TWAIN, OF NEW YORK. to Have a Vote There.

We have had a number of instances going to show that this campaign, like that of 1894, is to be characterized by a great civic uprising and that indifference is to be unknown. This morning, for instance, Mark Twain, in view of the great interest ness, an' hed a day or two to spare; an' I against 920,132,000 bushels and 853,695,000 in this canvas, decided to give up his citizenship in Connecticut and to become a citizen of New York. He has lived in New York since his return from Europe, a little over a year ago. In September he leased for a year the beautiful home so long occupled by one of the partners of the house of D. Appleton & Co., but which, it is understood, Mr. Appleton gave up after the business reverses which that highly esteemed firm met with a year or so ago. This house is at Riverdale, a station very near the northern boundary of New York yacht races noted by a New York corre- city, facing the Hudson and the Palisades, spondent was the number of women of the and in the Borough of the Bronx. Mr. Clemens executed the lease for the propimmoderately in public. On one of the for the literary composition which he has in view.
